

WANTED!
Dead or Alive

Peg Leg Pete
For robbery on the high seas and general skullduggery.
$1,000,000 REWARD

Stitch up a fun Wanted: Dead or Alive poster! I include a Peg Leg Pete pattern with an image of a boy pirate, and also a Hurricane Hattie pattern with an image of a girl pirate. You can even personalize the poster with your own pirate's name!

Happy stitching!

Throughout the pattern, the purple text links to online video tutorials demonstrating the stitch used. Find videos teaching all the embroidery basics (how to transfer a pattern, etc.) here.

As with any embroidery pattern, you can enlarge or reduce the pattern to make it any size you like, and use whatever colors and stitches you choose. Here's all the info on the colors and stitches I used. . .

All stitching is done with DMC #3371.

"For robbery. . . skullduggery" text - backstitch with 4 strands of thread

Dots on bandana - French knots with 6 strands of thread

Everything else - backstitch outlines with 6 strands of thread. Fill all letters and eye patch with long and short stitch using 6 strands of thread.

If you want to substitute a custom pirate name you have two options.

1. Cut or trace the letters from the alphabets below. Use the smaller size font on the smaller versions of the poster, the larger font on the larger posters.
2. Maybe you don't want to cut or trace all those itty bitty letters? Type it up using the font Century Schoolbook L Bold - it's a basic font available on most computers. The font size will depend on the length of your name - just play with it until it looks right in the poster - I used 50 pt for the larger poster and 33 for the small ones.

Either way - cut out the new name and tape or glue it over the current name on the poster. Transfer the new pattern using your favorite technique. Easy peasy!
